

COMMERCIAL VALUATIONS

Before real estate investors receive approval for a loan to buy any type of commercial real estate, they need to attain a commercial real estate appraisal of the subject property. A Commercial real estate appraisal is a value assessment on an income-generating property that is performed by a certified general appraiser. Property valuation can be on any kind of commercial real estate, including office buildings, multifamily buildings, retail buildings, etc.

WHY NAN?

Our Commercial Appraisal Team understands the specific valuation needs for commercial real estate and works with a network of Certified General and MAI certified Appraisers throughout the country who are highly experienced in this property type and understands the valuation strategies used to value commercial properties.
